

Chien de Berger Belge.

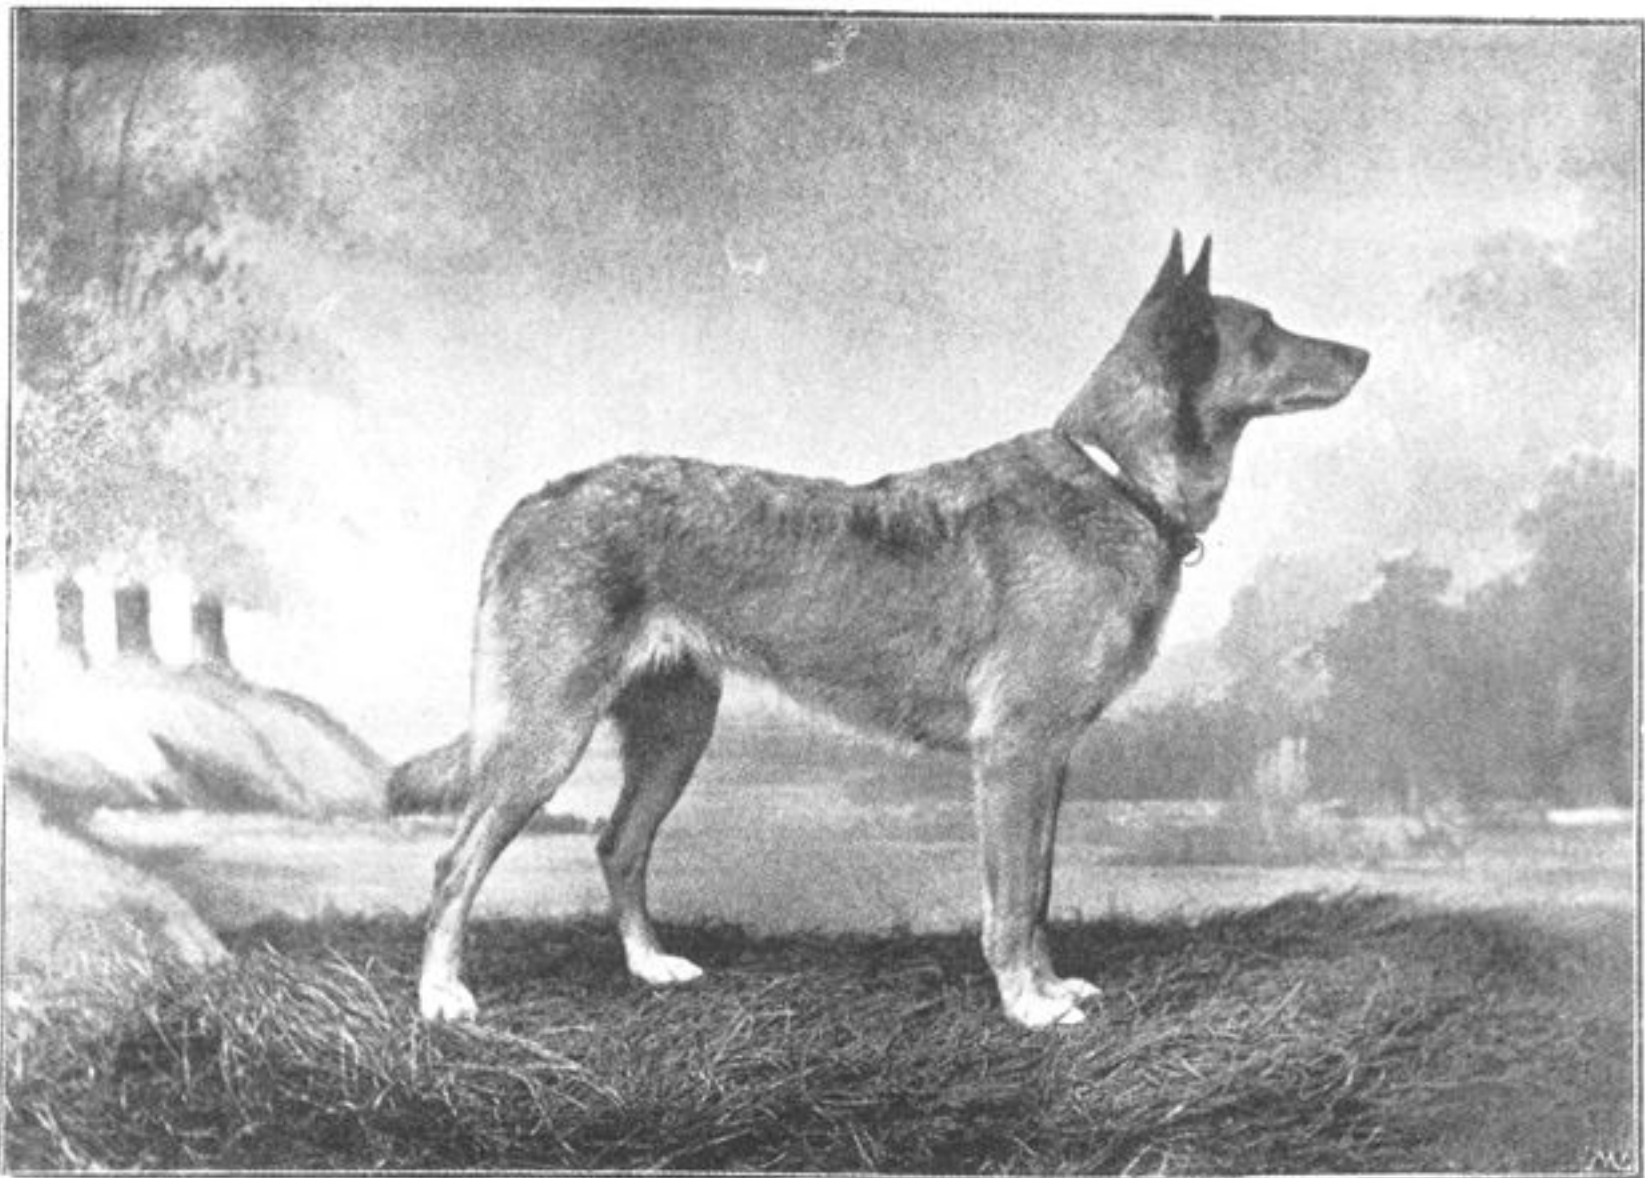

Belgian Sheep Dog.

General appearance. A very intelligent and rustic dog, accustomed to be in the open air, built to withstand all vicissitudes of weather, so common in Belgium. He is a good guardian and a splendid watch-dog, his sagacity, activity, enduring strength and dauntless courage makes him a protector of his master. He likes to move in circles, instead of straight on. His coat is always dense, abundant and makes an excellent, protective jacket.

Head. Long; skull not too broad, forehead more flat than rounded; muzzle pointed; stop moderate.

Nose. Black.

Eyes. Brown or yellow; expression inquiring and intelligent.

„Wanna“.
